According to the DOJ, Shawnee Murdaugh is facing a charge of "unlawfully storing an explosive material." She was arrested at her home in Shawnee on April 3. So, not only did she illegally put an explosive device in her husband's truck in March, but also she knowingly did so while her husband was either defending her son from further child abuse, the CPS, or both! Yesterday, the day before Brandon's grand jury trial was supposed to begin, Shawnee Murdaugh brought a motion to have the charges against her dismissed. We strongly oppose the motion! She must be held accountable for putting that bomb in her husband's truck. But to drive the point home, let us use some of her own words from yesterday's motion. The court was told that Shawnee Murdaugh knew her son needed to be taken from her. She told the police she was "terrified" at the idea of Brandon being taken away from her. She was told to call 911, and she did so. Officers told her to keep her family away from the house and to not let anyone into or out of the house. But when officers went back to the house later that day and asked Shawnee Murdaugh to come out with her family, she didn't want to. She told officers she didn't want her son, or his grandmother, or her family, or her parents, or her lawyer there. From the motion: "Shawnee did not want her child there, and wanted to call her attorney." Later that day, Shawnee even told the police that Brandon Mitchell had burned her son, a year and a half old, twice. The motion goes on, Shawnee told the court that the child cried for 2½ hours while Brandon Mitchell was burning him. And then the motion says that SHAWNEE MURDAUGH DID nothing to protect her son, or his twin sister. In fact, Shawnee Murdaugh was mostly a witness against her son, and against the CPS that had investigated her f30f4ceada
